And do you know why I was called by that name? Because I decided who would be saved and who would be condemned. I took that responsibility for others and now I take it for myself. I am Black Jesus. I do not crawl.

Zimbabwe. 2015. The Mugabe Government has fallen and investigations into its abuses have begun. Eunice Ncube, working for the new Truth and Justice Commission, begins the interviewing of Gabriel Chibamu, one of the most infamous perpetrators of the horrors of the Mugabe regime. As Gabriel's trial and inevitable prosecution approach, Eunice begins to sift through the past – only to find that right and wrong, and guilt and innocence, are far less clear than she first thought . . .

This stunning new play by Finborough Theatre Playwright-in-Residence, and one of the UK's leading political playwrights, Anders Lustgarten, is more urgent than ever. Black Jesus unpicks the political complexities of Zimbabwe through the devastating personal journeys of two very different people, both scarred by one of Africa's most notorious dictatorships.

Janice Leon:

As a college student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library in order to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart and soul or real their pastime. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for you personally. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Black Jesus (Modern Plays) can make you experience more interested to read.
