We Go to the Gallery (Dung Beetle Reading Scheme 1a) Miriam Elia

Have you taken children to a gallery recently? Did you struggle to explain the work to them in plain, simple English? With this new Dung Beetle book by artist Miriam Elia--a tribute to and a parody of the much-loved British Ladybird early learning children's books of the 1960s--anyone can learn about contemporary art and understand many of its key themes. Join John and Susan on their exciting journey through the art exhibition, where, with Mummy's help, they will discover the real meaning of all the contemporary artworks, from empty rooms to vagina paintings or giant inflatable dogs.

The 2014 limited edition of We Go to the Gallery was threatened with a lawsuit by Penguin UK (owners of the Ladybird imprint), which was withdrawn following a recent change in UK copyright law allowing for parody and satire.

This We Go to the Gallery (Dung Beetle Reading Scheme 1a) can be the response, oh how comes? A book you know. You are thus out of date, spending your time by reading in this fresh era is common not a geek activity. So what these guides have than the others?

William Jones:

As a university student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library or to make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's spirit or real their hobby. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to go to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring and also can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this We Go to the Gallery (Dung Beetle Reading Scheme 1a) can make you feel more interested to read.
